Talk About Your Work: A Peer-to-Peer Collaboration

.6 CEUs
Requested

“How was that?” Interpreters often ask themselves this question during and after an assignment. How do you talk about your work? What questions do you ask? What would other professional colleagues have to say about your work product? This collaborative session will afford participants the opportunity to openly and freely talk about their work product. Feedback and mediated questioning designed to aid the interpreter with thinking about the processes of the texts as well as peer-to-peer discussion will be the main format of the workshop.
